Especially in times of community crisis, such as the tragic deaths of two Saint Louis Fire Fighters a few years ago, Rod Forth and Anheuser-Busch have been there for the people of our community; and

WHEREAS, Rod helped launch what is now regarded as one of the premier civic events of the year in Saint Louis with the founding sponsorship of the acclaimed Mayor's Mardi Gras Ball, held annually in the rotunda of City Hall and which Rod and Patty Forth have served as Honorary Chairs every year; and

WHEREAS, an avid outdoorsman, hunter, fisher and conservationist, Rod has shown his passion and commitment to making our community a better place, and for that, we salute him; and

Resolution No. 233
Chuck Decker

WHEREAS, we have been apprised that Chuck Decker will be retiring after 28 years as an Iron Worker; and

WHEREAS, Chuck was accepted for Apprenticeship in 1970 and worked in the field for 28 years as an apprentice, Journeyman, Union Steward, Foreman, General Foreman and Superintendent; and

WHEREAS, Chuck has previously held the elected positions of Local Union Trustee, one term; Executive Board Member, two terms; Vice President, two terms; President/Business Agent, three terms; and Delegate to the International Convention, on three occasions; and

WHEREAS, Chuck married Nancy Spinelli in 1971 and has two children, Phil, an Iron Worker for 15 years and executive Board Member of 396 and Ellen, the first Decker to graduate from college; and

WHEREAS, Chuck is the proud grandfather of two beautiful grandchildren, Charlize and Willa; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Alderman is happy to learn of Chuck's retirement-so he no longer has influence and we can finally speak honestly about him without fear of retribution; and

WHEREAS, Chuck's life and career is a remarkable, given his lack of talent and bad personality; and

WHEREAS, regarding his talent, consider that it took Chuck three attempts to find a high school that would graduate him, and his work as an ironworker was so bad the membership of 396 elected him to office in order to stop him from destroying the reputation of the quality of their work; and

WHEREAS, regarding his personality, let's just say Chuck is a hard person to be around. Consider how several restaurants requested that Chuck not return after complaints from other patrons who were in viewing distance of Chuck devouring a meal; and

WHEREAS, some people thought that Chuck was always the last to leave the party, when in reality, when Chuck got to the party it was over-everyone would leave; and

WHEREAS, perhaps the most remarkable thing about Chuck's career is that he reached retirement age, given that his driving is so bad no other officer of 396 will ride with him out of fear of leaving their children as orphans; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Aldermen want to express their appreciation to the members of Local 396 for providing employment to Chuck these last 28 years as we are sure that Chuck could not have found work anywhere else.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we pause in our deliberation to recognize the many achievements of Chuck Decker in his 28 year career as an Iron Worker and we further direct the Clerk of this Board to spread a commemorative copy to the end that it may be presented to our honoree at a time and place deemed appropriate by the Sponsor.

Resolution No. 232

The Miles Davis Festival

WHEREAS, the mission of the Miles Davis Festival is to educate the public about the music of Miles Davis and to encourage the public to explore all kinds of music, particularly jazz. The first annual festival will take place in June 2009. To ensure that all members of society have the opportunity to hear some of the world's most talented musicians, the event will be free to the public; and

WHEREAS, jazz legend Miles Davis was born in the St. Louis region, and he spent his formative years here. Throughout his acclaimed career, Davis has been a leader in almost every important jazz movement in the 20th Century such as bebop, modal jazz and jazz-fusion; and

WHEREAS, Davis has earned recognition from his musical peers on many occasions including a 1960 Grammy Award, a 1970 Grammy Award and a 1990 Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award. In addition to his Grammy awards, Davis has earned membership in several prestigious groups including, the Hollywood Walk of Fame, the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Hollywood's Rockwalk.

WHEREAS, Davis' friends and family believe in the need for an annual tribute to him in his hometown. The new Miles Davis Festival will build upon a successful birthday concert for Davis that was held in 2001 in East St. Louis, which attracted an audience of 3,000. Quincy Troupe and Eugene B. Redmond, close Davis friends organized the 2001 tribute. Quincy Troupe is a renowned writer and poet who coauthored, Miles, the Autobiography, and wrote, Miles and Me, a personal memoir of his friendship with Davis. Eugene B. Redmond is an Emeritus Professor of English at SIUE and the editor of "Drumvoices Revue." Troupe and Redmond are the leaders of the Miles Davis Festival; and

WHEREAS, the Miles Davis Festival will have multiple activities for the public to experience the magic of Davis and the artistry of jazz. Planned activities include: Showcase Free Concerts featuring Internationally-Known Artists, Literary Showcases, Youth Music Workshops, Miles Davis Multi-Media Pavilion, the Miles Marketplace and the Miles Fare.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we pause in our deliberations to call upon the City of St. Louis to support the Miles Davis Festival and work in conjunction with officials from East St. Louis to make the annual Miles Davis Festival a great success. Hopefully, in the near future a concurrent resolution between the cities of St. Louis and East St. Louis will be formed.
